Following the election of officers for the ensuing year, the 31st annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Belle Vernon came to a close yesterday at noon. ## Old Folks' Reception.

The old folks of Connelville are interested in the annual old folks' reception to be held tomorrow afternoon in the First Methodist Episcopal church under the auspices of the Epworth League. While scores of invitations have been sent to the aged residents of the city and surrounding districts the invitation committee, however, fears that some of the old people have been missed—that they have not received invitations. If so, it is not intentional on the part of the committee. It is merely because it is impossible to locate every one of the older residents of the city. Any of the old folks of the vicinity who have not received invitations are asked to come. If they are not able to walk to the church they are requested to call Rev. C. L. Richardson, pastor of the church, and automobiles will be sent to their homes. The reception is not a deaconal affair. Old folks of every church are welcome.

placed in employment, with no training or incomplete training, numbered 16,410.

"Inquiry revealed, however, that of this number 12,820 were self-placed, which is an euphuistic manner of saying they went out and got their own jobs.

The article places blame for conditions on three parties:

"The Sixty-fifth Congress, which framed the law, dividing responsibility for the invalid man's maintenance between the War Risk Insurance and the Federal Board.

"The War Risk Insurance Bureau. Why it requires from three weeks to six months for the bureau to act on a man's case after he leaves the hospital, is a mystery that has never been explained.

"The Federal Board for Vocational Education which has made the worst of a bad situation imposed by law. Was more than a modicum of foresight required to anticipate the mess that came about? The board itself is a supercentralized and cumbersome machine. With six months to prepare for the discharge rush of April and May it was swamped when applicants increased from about 200 to about 600 a week."

The two were married last September. Several weeks ago Medich learned that when she swore in Uniontown when making application for a marriage license that she was single she was actually married to a man named Nardlek. Last April Nardlek was killed, so that the impediment to the marriage is removed.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Cass. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Cass. H. Fletcher.

Westwood (Pa.) Lady Relates How Plant Juice Cured Her Stomach Trouble.

Mrs. S. R. Toy, who lives at the corner of Cornell and Lehigh avenues, Westwood, Pa., and has a wide acquaintance in this city, gave the following interesting statement:

MRS. S. R. TOY

"I took Plant Juice about three years for a weak stomach and violent headaches, from which I had suffered for years. I was very skeptical of the medicine helping me, as I had tried a number of different medicines without any benefit, but I must say that I was completely cured at that time, and now after three years can testify that the cure was lasting. Plant Juice is a wonderful medicine and I am glad to recommend it to others."

FRIDAY EVENING, SEP. 19, 1914.

THE COKE REGION'S INTEREST.

The Connellsville coke region has a very direct and vital interest in the united effort of the steel and iron workers in the Pittsburgh and hedge districts. Continued activity of coke making and general business, or the stoppage of both, are the conditions confronting the region according to the views of the ranks of the steel workers are permitted to prevail and the strike called off, or the radical element now apparently in control of the situation persists in having its way to the extent of carrying the order into effect.

In the event of a strike, even of short duration, the coke industry will be immediately affected. Idle furnaces do not need coke and the ovens will be forced to close down, for lack of a consuming market. Coke workers will be without employment and payments will cease. Every line of business in the region which is dependent, directly or indirectly upon the coke trade will suffer in proportion as it is closely or distantly related to supplying the wants of the makers and handlers of coke. Freight movement on the railroads will fall off in large volume and the number of train crews be reduced in consequence.
Scarcely any business or industry in the region will escape the blighting effects of a practical suspension of activity.

Such being the result of a final decision of the steel workers to strike every interest of the coke region demands that such an event be forestalled, if possible. Without means whereby to prevent such a disaster to business and industry, the most the people of the Connellsville region can do is to hope that it will not take place.

Ever since President Wilson issued his appeal for a truce with respect to issues raised between employers and employees, public sentiment has steadily grown stronger in support of this proposition. It is everywhere realized, and by none more fully than the conservative leaders of the labor organizations, that strikes for higher wages or shorter hours of work or other causes are the worst of all methods through which to bring about a reduction in the cost of living or a readjustment of industry to a peace time basis.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor holds that view and has assented to the request for a truce. He has been named a member of the capital-labor conference and has counseled against precipitate action in the steel situation. This has been complicated, however, by the attitude of John Fitzpatrick who is regarded as the leader of the element in the federation which has been hostile to the conference plan and is in more or less determined opposition to the policy of President Gompers. Fitzpatrick is one of the dominant factors in the movement to found a labor political party, which is not regarded with favor among the conservatives in the ranks, hence is out of sympathy with that element which urges that efforts be made to bring about an understanding between capital and labor without resort to a strike.

This radical leader is in control of the iron and steel workers and wants a strike which Gompers is opposed.
If the majority of Fitzpatrick prevails, no new seems probable from the action taken in Pittsburgh yesterday. Monday will witness at least a partial stoppage of the steel industry, to be followed by an enforced suspension of activity at the coke works. Then will the coke region have a very direct and vital interest in the situation.

FOOTBALL.

It is an entirely proper appeal that the high school football team makes for a more liberal support during the forthcoming season. The generally increased cost of things makes no exception of the items entering into the preparation for and conduct of a game of football, hence the income from the games must be larger than heretofore if it is hoped to end the season without a very considerable deficit.

Many persons who are cut of touch with school work, and particularly the athletic side of school life, may decry the expenditure necessary to conduct a series of games, but this sport has come to be so important as a high school activity that it is to be regarded as a fixture. The only criticism that can be made of football as a sport is that participation in it is limited to a few young men and the mass of the students derive no benefit in the direction of a better individual physical development and a craving. It seems, however, to promote a healthy school spirit and focuses an interest in athletic sports and to that extent it is beneficial to the entire student body.

It should be the desire of every parent having children in the high school to boost the institution and every proper and well conducted activity in connection with it. At this season football holds the interest of the athletic world. It is a poor high school that cannot form a team to take part in the series of games by means of which the skill of players in the several communities is given a test. It is even a poorer town that will not support and boost its football team.
Connellsville must not be allowed to get into that class.

There will not be general agreement with the State Highway Department in its conclusion that this has been the wettest summer in many years. The dry period beginning July 1, and which prevailed, would tend to dispute even the most carefully kept weather records.

The high school football players will have to do very high kicking this year of the high cost of sport if they hope to prevent their team being left high and dry financially.

President Wilson avers that if we do not accept the League of Nations covenant we will have to fight Japan.
Does he think we are too proud to show the Japs what we showed the Huns?

It was a proud moment in the life of General Pershing when he stood in the House yesterday to receive the thanks of a grateful nation for his gallant leadership of the American Expeditionary Forces in the war. It was also a proud moment for the nation.

The local morning paper is utterly unable to conceal its fear and trembling lest "Key" will not permanently emerge from the city and certain Democrats do not stay "eliminated" from the ranks of that party.

Why limit the deportation of undesirables to Emma Goldman, high priestess, and Alexander Berkman, high priest of anarchy in this country?

AGAINST POLICE UNIONS

President Wilson Declares Organization Will Not Be Permitted.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Wilson, in a telegram sent from Dunsmuir, Cal., and received today by the local city government, said that organization of the police forces of the country for the purpose of bringing pressure against the public should not be countenanced or permitted.

The telegram was read today before the Senate committee considering the resolution of Senator Myers, Democrat, Montana, to shut off the pay of all members of the Washington police force as long as they re-

THE PARAMOUNT.

"UPSTAIRS"—Presenting Mabel Normand in her latest Goldwyn picture, is being presented today.

It presents the simple tale of a girl worker in a big hotel, who more than made good. The little comedienne, as Miss MacFarland, always wants to be the fairyland upstairs. She is given the chance when a young millionaire, after seeing her peeking through a doorway, secures the uniform of a bell-boy and visits her in the basement where she works.

There are a million laughs and a thousand giggles in the five reels. She is mistaken for a run-away girl who is about to marry a crook, because the bell-boy brought her the run-away girl's dress, instead of taking it out to be cleaned. While talking with "upstairs" in the borrowed finery, she is treated by detectives, escapes, fights the crook when he finds her after following her as his fiancée because of the dress she wears.

Altogether she has a great time.
The father of the eloping miss offers $5,000 reward, and is about to pay it to the detective when his own daughter tells him it all belongs to the little hotel girl who saved her, instead of the bungling sleuth. So she is given the check, and turns, elated, to her unfamiliar friend, offering to set him up in business to repay him for allowing her to see the mystic upstairs.
He then tells her of his love, pictures for her his big house servants, injury and, of course, she accepts.

The production is full of clean, youthful comedy, and is well directed.
The cast includes noted actors, among them being Cullen Landis, Hailam Cooley and Edwin Stevens.

THE SIOSSON.

"THE AGE OF THE SADDLE"— Starring Harry Carey, Universal's star, is today attraction. The story concerns the difficulties of a western cattle man who is on the dividing line between Yucca and Pinkerton counties. Yucca county was afflicted with a crooked sheriff who led a band of cattle rustling while-cappers operating under the guise of the Yucca County Cattle Dealers' Association, and Cheyenne Harry Headroom's cattle were stolen nightly. The sheriff merely sheltered in Cheyenne's plea for protection.

Cheyenne visited the sheriff of the adjacent county of Pinkerton, but learned that Sheriff Faulkner's authority ended at the county line and for that reason he could offer no aid.
But Sheriff Faulkner had a pretty daughter, as both Cheyenne and the crooked sheriff of Yucca learned. Rivalry between the two men grew to hated and matters looked pretty gloomy for Cheyenne, when Madeline Faulkner, the Pinkerton sheriff's daughter, asked Cheyenne to forego for her sake the wearing of fire-arms.

Although Cheyenne knew his six-shooter was the best friend he had, especially at this time, he consented to become a man of peace. How he fought the raiding bands and the sheriff unarmed, until there came a crowning outrage that caused him to "burst loose from peace" is the basis of the gripping picture.

ORDER HAVE MORE SENSE.

"Order have more sense," he said as he sent him up to bed.
Cuz the little tyke had done Something in his chase for fun That was wrong, an' I sat there Smokin' in a rockin' chair Wonderin' why it was his dad Punished such a little lad.

Didn't interfere right then,
But when quiet came again,
"Blip," says I, still feelin' sore, "What d'yer think yer whupped him for?"

"What'd I whip him for," says he,
"Cuz he stomped his foot at me"
And he should have had more sense Than to climb on that there fence."

"No," says I, "that isn't so!" Right this minute you don't know Just the reason for the slap That you gave that little chap.
Twasn't what he did or said Made you send him up to bed, But because he lacks the sense Born of your experience."

"All you let your temper go is coz he doesn't know Quite as much 'bout what to do As a grown-up man like you.
You expect a child to be Just as wise as you or me—An' it's my experience, Old Folks order have more sense."

"Stolen Streets."
Is a typical Parisian comique, Americanized by W. C. Herman. This play made an instantaneous hit at the Comedy Francaise, Paris, where it was first produced, and such was its success that it has been translated into several different languages and presented in the prominent cities of Europe. To the delight of an unique and highly original plot, W. C. Herman has transposed the scenes and set them in the environs of New York City. The comedy deals largely with love in the "habit stage" when it becomes as difficult of cure as a physical malady. Robert Standish struggles with the serpentine, trailing evil of selfishness constitutes a thrilling as well as ludicrous nucleus of action with which are contrasted the loves and likings of the upper strata of modern fashionable society. These affairs of the heart, complicate the plot which the metropolitan critics say is "brilliantly imagined," and filled with much indescribable charm and humor. Coming to Grand, Mt. Pleasant, Tuesday, September 23. Phone 84-J for seats.

SCHOOL TEACHER NEEDED BRAINS

"Never have had such a 'God-send' come to me as when I took the first dose of May's Wonderful Remedy. I was afraid I would have to give up my school because of severe stomach, liver and bowel trouble which caused such a pressure of gas that I could not use my brain at times, and my heart would palpitate awfully. Since taking a treatment of May's Wonderful Remedy a year ago, all this has disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. A. A. Clarke, and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

"My stomach was so badly disordered that I could scarcely eat anything, as food caused pain in my stomach, a choking sensation in my throat and a sickish feeling. Tanlac is a remarkable remedy and I gladly recommend it. Tanlac is now sold here by Bokshley's Pharmacy, Connellsville Drug Store and Fred Harmoning Pharmacy.—Adv.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have ringing, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 4 table-spoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dripping into the throat. It is as easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

"Where?"
"Well, sah, it was 'bout like dis: long 'bout three o'clock in de morning o' Bill Sikes cum up from de lower plant, a-dirtin' his kivered wagon, an' made Massa Shrumk git up ont er bed fer ter git him anudder team o' roses. Den dey done routed me up fer ter hustle up sum grub."

"Sikes; who was Sikes?"
"He lives down by de lower pike, sah; he's an abolitionist, sah."

"Oh, I see; he and Shrumk worked together. He helped with the runaway slaves."
"Yes, sah. Ah's bin called up the way afore. So Ah just nat'raly went ter work cookin', an' purty soon dey all ov 'em cum stragglin' in ter de cabin fer ter eat. Dar was four ov em, sah; her voice a husky whisper.
'Bill Sikes, totin' a gun in his han', a free nigger whut dey called Pete, an' two wimmin. De bigger one was a quadroon, maybe 'bout forty years ol', an' de odder she was't much more'n a gal; an' dar was't nuthin' ov de niger 'bout her, 'cept it might be de hair, an' de eyes—den was sure black nough."

"You learned who they were?"
"Course Ah did. Sikes he 'splained all 'bout 'em ter Massa Shrumk, an' Ah recor what he sed. Ah was a waitin' 'em. We all ov us helped fer ter put 'em in de wagon, hid under a lot o' rucks, an' den Sikes he done drove 'em out thro' de bluff. Ah done walked wif de gal, an' she tol' me 'bout herself, an' whar she cum from; an' dat was her name, sah."

"Her name? What name?"
"Rene Beaucure; de quadroon woman, she was her mother."

I could scarcely voice my surprise, the quick throbbing of my heart threatning to choke me.

"She claimed that name? She actually told you she was Rene Beaucure?"
"She sure did. Why? Want't that her name?"

"I do not know," I confessed. "Perhaps I shall understand better, if you go on. What happened after they left?"

"Why, we just went back ter bed, an' long 'bout daylight, I reckon, sum fellars cum ashore off a steamboat, an' done broke inter de house. We never done heard 'em till dey bust in de door.
One ob dem he knocked me down, an' den Ah saw Massa Shrumk kill one, sfore dey got him. Ah don't know just whut did cum ob de free nigger; Ah reckon maybe he run away. Dar's a fellar on board yere whut killed Massa Shrumk; an' he's de same ode whut made me cum 'long wif him. A smooth-faced man, sorter tall like, all dressed up, an' who never talks much."

"Kirby—Joe Kirby, a river gambler." "Dat's de name, Kirby. Well, he's de one whut was lookin' for dis yere gal, Rene Beaucure. He wanted her powful bad. Dey hunted all 'round fer ter git her, cusin' an' threatenin', an' a haulin' me round; but 'cna't no sorter use. So finally dey took me 'long ter a boat in de creek—a keelboat, run by steam. Most de odder men disappeared; Ah never did know whar dey went, but dis yere Kirby done shut me up in de cabin. Ah don't know much whut did happen after dat, til 'bout de time de steamboat done hit us; an' 'bout de next thing Ah was yanked up yere on deck."

"But there was another woman on the keelboat when it was sunk—a prisoner also. Surely you must have seen her," I insisted.

"Ah saw her—yas," eagerly. "But Ah don't know who she was, sah, nor whar she ever cum from."

"Then she is not there with you?"
"No, sah; Ah's yere all 'lone. Ah reckon, tho', she sure mus' be on board sumwhar. All whut Ah does know is, dat de gal' called Rene Beaucure sure ain't on board; fer she, an' her mah, am at Beardstown long fore dis, an' a headin' right smart for Canada; while Ah's headin' fer down souf. Ah's just told yer all dis, Mister White Man, 'cause you's a frien' ob de Beaucures —yer was, wasn't yer?"

"Yes," I said soberly, "I am; and, if I can find any chance to help you, I am going to do it, Elsie. Don't talk any more—the captain is just coming out of the pilot house."

As greatly as this brief, hastily whispered conversation had served to clear up certain puzzling matters in my mind, the total result of the information thus imparted by Elsie Clark only rendered the situation more complex and puzzling. Evidently the other prisoner had not been confined on the upper deck, but had been more securely hidden away below, where her presence on board would better escape detection. For what purpose? A sinister one, beyond all doubt—the expression of a vague fear in Kirby's heart that, through some accident, her identity might be discovered, and his plans disarranged. I comprehended the part he intended Elsie Beaucure to play in his future, and realized that he cared more to gain possession of her, to get her into his power, than he did to obtain control of the slave. This knowledge helped me to understand the predicament which this revelation put him into, and how desperately he would strive to retain the upper hand.
If, in very truth, she was Judge Beau-cure's white daughter, and could gain communication with others of her class, bringing to them proof of her identity, there would be real men enough on board the Adventurer to rally to her support. We were already sailing through free territory, and even now he held on to his slaves rather

WITH ROPE AROUND HER NECK, NEGRESS NAMES ACCOMPLICE

Hearing of a robbery case before Judge E. H. Reppert in Uniontown yesterday afternoon brought sensational developments in the trial of Harry Blaine, negro on charges of a combination of the "Badger" and "hunger" games being perpetrated upon Alex Vendo counter charged by indignities to which Blaine and his companion Mollie Barber were subjected by the state police at New Salem headquarters. The jury found Blaine guilty as indicted.

Dr. Hubbs Sangston of McClellandtown testified that he was awakened on the evening of July 14 by cries for help and seeing his wife he dressed hurriedly and went to the street. He encountered the Barber woman, he said, but was unable to get any information from her and he continued down the road.

In a few minutes, he testified, he came upon the aged foreigner somewhat stunned from the effects of a blow over the head. The man told him, Dr. Sangston testified, that a colored man and woman had robbed him. Retracing his steps the physician continued, he placed the Barber woman under arrest, tied her in his car to prevent her escape and by means of a rope around her neck forced her to reveal the identity of her companion. With that information, he testified, he called the state police. Members of the state constabulary arrested Blaine.

Both Blaine and the Barber woman testified that they were required to remove all their clothing while in the same room in the presence of Sergeant Peter Murphy and Private Joseph Kiefer. Sergeant Murphy admitted having stripped Blaine but said he was searched in a room by himself. The negress testified she was only required to remove her stockings and that she was given no assistance.

Vendo testified that early in the morning of the robbery he was accosted by Blaine and the woman while walking along the road to Edenboro and that he and the woman walked away from Blaine. Later he testified he woman told him that her husband was approaching. The approaching husband, he testified, proved to be Blaine who struck him in the head and robbed him of $111. Eleven dollars was found on Blaine when he was arrested.

Acid stomach begins with such well-known symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc. If not checked, it time affects to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Ligation suffers. The blood is in circulation. Brain and strength are undermined. ## ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain.
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc. are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The alkali in stomach lining is irritated, digests is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digests are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drug list a few ounces of B saturated Muesesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart of glass of water right after eating. This sweet ens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Saturated Muesesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion—adv.

Over-Worked Men

The Strenuous Life We Are Living Uses Up Our Vital Forces Faster Than Nature Can Replace Them.

To overcome anything is harmful and a continuation of it will wear out the strongest man. Overwork, worry, brain ache, high living, dissipation and other such habits waste away the most vital elements of the blood, brain and nerves, then disease sets in. At first there will be a general indigestion, poor appetite, indigestion, severe headache, wakefulness and weakness in the back, the temper irritable, the spirits depressed, the memory poor and the mind weakened, ending in premature decline. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets correct this condition by building up your blood and nerve forces. A trial will convince you. # Are You Heeding The President's Advice?

Mr. Wilson said in Congress recently:

"—exercise a greater vigilance, a more thoughtful economy, a more discriminating care as to merchants you trade with than you hitherto exercised."

The President gave this as the true rule for reducing the cost of living for each individual who followed it. There is no denying that lower prices can come only through increased production. Meanwhile, the Wright-Metzler Company has put its good name into its merchandise this year as never before and never before has it made such a supreme effort to see that so stocks with inflated values or no unnecessary merchandise would find their way to the company's shelves.

RIGHT GOODS— RIGHT SERVICE— RIGHT PRICES—

These are the three "R's" which this store is offering its customers to help reduce their high cost of living.

The Right Hat

Confidence in the correctness of the style and quality of one's hat is essential always. Confidence that the style and quality are RIGHT gives one opportunity to choose then the hat most becoming.

Men who buy Wright-Metzler hats this year will have the assurance that "discriminating care" in the selection of the styles and untiring "vigilance" in the safeguarding of the quality have gone into every hat before it was bought for display and sale.

A Derby or a Soft Hat, either will add distinction to your appearance for there is quality—the Wright-Metzler quality—in every one. The prices range from

$1.50 to $2.50
